

Best of Cornell and Ithaca

Sun staff gives the low down on the top picks around town

Best Pizza

Collegetown Pizza

Well, we certainly don't need to tell you where it is, but you may have trouble finding it behind the throngs of people who gather there around 1 a.m.

OFF CAMPUS
Stella's

One of the few double winners, Stella's brews some mean coffee and espresso drinks, complete with cute names.

ON CAMPUS
Gimme!

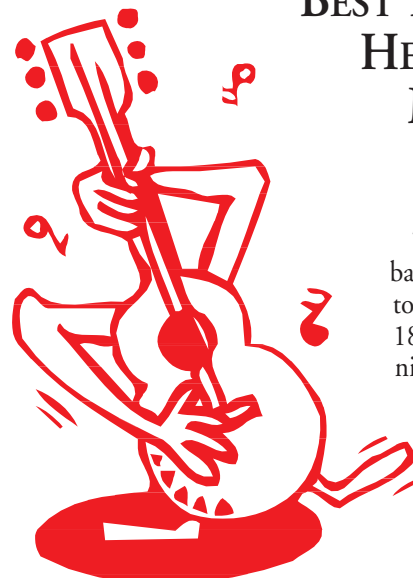

It's local, it's yummy, and it's always brewed well. Can't it be in every café and cafeteria at Cornell?

Rulloff's

In one of the tightest categories, this Collegetown restaurant/bar won out in the end.

HONORABLE MENTION: GLENWOOD PINES

BEST PLACE TO HEAR LIVE MUSIC

The Nines

This Collegetown bar is even accessible to students between 18 and 21 on certain nights.

HONORABLE MENTION: ABC CAFE

Madeline's

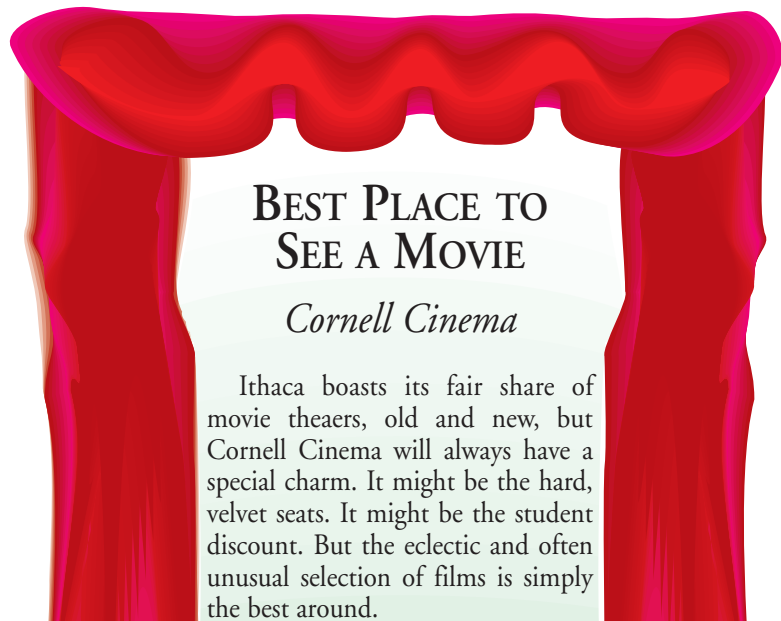

This Commons restaurant may serve dinner, but it is certainly most memorable for its wine and sweets.

BEST FRIES

Curly Fries, Ivy Room

This pay-as-you-go eatery in the Straight has some of the best fries we've ever tasted. More seasoning, please.

HONORABLE MENTION: SWEET POTATO FRIES, THE TERRACE IN STATLER

BEST PLACE TO SEE A MOVIE

Cornell Cinema

Ithaca boasts its fair share of movie theaters, old and new, but Cornell Cinema will always have a special charm. It might be the hard, velvet seats. It might be the student discount. But the eclectic and often unusual selection of films is simply the best around.

BEST C-TOWN BAR

Rulloff's

This was a heavily contested category, but this Collegetown restaurant/bar is frequented by Sun editors and staff, especially when we're looking for some tequila sunrises.

BEST PLACE TO GET A DRINK MIDWEEK

Stella's

This Collegetown restaurant/coffee-shop/bar works for us at all hours of the day and night.

BEST JAPANESE FOOD

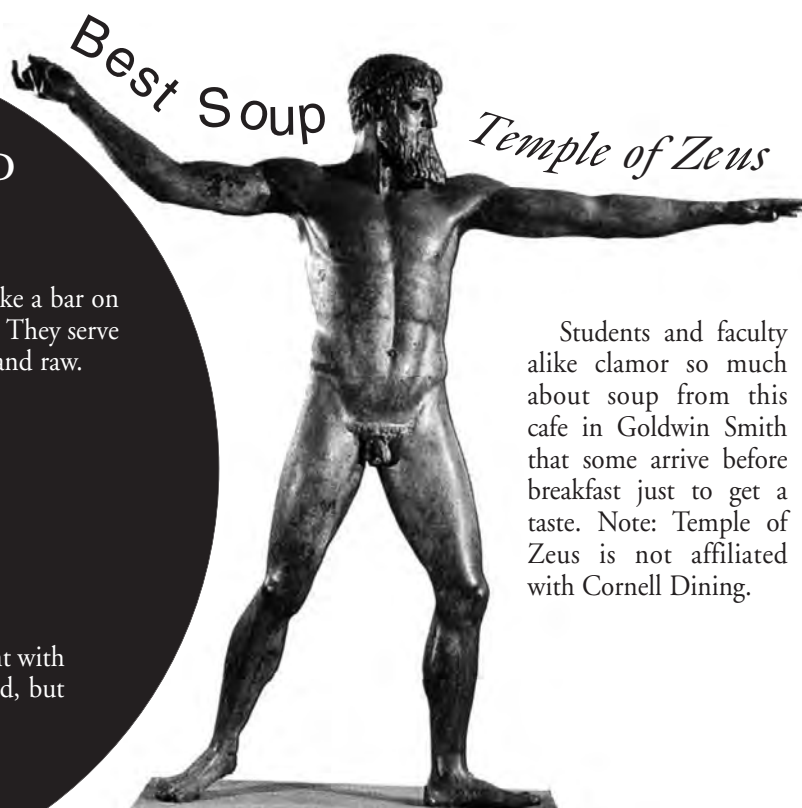

Plum Tree

This Collegetown restaurant may often seem like a bar on Friday and Saturday nights, but don't be mistaken. They serve some of the best food in Collegetown — cooked and raw.

BEST BRUNCH

Carriage House

This Stewart Avenue coffeeshop/restaurant with baked goods to go can satisfy your every need, but no time is better than brunch here.

Students and faculty alike clamor so much about soup from this café in Goldwin Smith that some arrive before breakfast just to get a taste. Note: Temple of Zeus is not affiliated with Cornell Dining.

BEST PLACE TO WORK OUT

Noyes Community Center

This new West Campus facility offers some of the "least dingy" equipment around. However, plan your gym schedule accordingly, as this gym is often packed with sweaty Cornellians.
